

The Runaway in Your Living Room?

The Runaway is booking shows for this year to come out and bless your community. I've been working with various artists to arrange an acoustic show that we can bring into people's houses with as little tech requirements as possible. We are also going to 'borrow' from American artist The Listener and propose some house shows. Here's how it works...

The shows: Use a small venue (living room, cafe, etc) and invite people over for a potluck. We will all eat and fellowship together and then we will perform. I am also partnering with Em Johnson and Alan Waugh from Urban Ex (www.urbanex.org) to come and add to the evening with story telling & sharing. They are fantastically passionate people with a marvelous gift for loving others, encouragement and sharing the message of Extravagant love.

Finances: From my end, I am just looking for covered costs (gas), shelter and good experiences. We may have the need for two or three beds (depending on the size of the crew I bring) but we would love to stay with people in your area. We would need your help in making those arrangements.

I have two financial goals:

- 1) Gather some money to record a project in 2011 (accomplished by offering or a 'pay what you can' cover charge)
- 2) Raise awareness, connections and funds for Urban Ex (accomplished through merchandise sales, including my new CD, Round Two)

Scheduling: The band and participants are in Milton, Hamilton & the Waterloo Region of Ontario. For the shorter trips, weekdays could work. For the longer trips, weekends are better.

Hopefully this intrigues you. It would great to see you, and I think between my work and Urban Ex, we have many things to offer that can contribute mightily to your friends and communities.

Much love. Contact me at runaway.jon@gmail.com
